You can apply for a Companion Pass if you are unable to travel alone because of your disability

Are you applying for a Companion Pass? Yes No

Please note, if you ask your GP to complete this evidence form or write a letter, this is not an NHS service. If your GP does agree to complete the form you will normally have to pay, and a completed form does not guarantee you a travel pass. We do not deal directly with GPs.

Section 2 Information for the medical professional

The person named above is applying for a Disabled Person's Travel Pass on the basis that they would be refused a driving licence on medical grounds.

The Transport Act 2000 defines this as:

"would, if they applied for the grant of a licence to drive a motor vehicle under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988, have their application refused pursuant to section 92 of the Act (physical fitness) otherwise than on the ground of persistent misuse of drugs or alcohol."

They need not have ever applied for a driving licence. However, if they do currently hold a driving licence then they would not be eligible for a travel pass.

Please answer to the best of your professional knowledge and judgement.

It is up to the applicant to demonstrate that they qualify for a travel pass, and we have provided this form to help them obtain information about their eligibility under this criteria. However, any costs will be borne by the applicant.
